

Pedagogical Principles of the Münchner Schulstiftung – Ernst v. Borries –.

On February 18, 2009 the school foundation and the board of trustees agreed to the following principals and added them to the foundations by-laws.

- 1 Respect for the dignity of the individual shapes the life in the schools of the Münchner Schulstiftung.
- 2 A relationship based on trust provides the basis for friendly and respectful dealings with one another. The right to be heard and to understand the reasons behind pedagogical are essential for an atmosphere of security, which alone makes fear free learning and success possible.
- 3 Since accomplishments strengthen our character, the schools of the Münchner Schulstiftung cultivate performance and motivation of the individual in accordance to their abilities and faculties.
- 4 The directors provide the teaching staff impulses and suggestions in order for them to acquire a variety of didactic methods and educational options and use them in their lessons.
- 5 The aim of creating an European awareness and a deep insight into the global significance of European values and peace framework underlies all subjects and promote through relevant projects a dedication of the European ideal.
- 6 Beyond the subject matter taught, a cultural education is expected of the students, making them aware of the connection of their own nationality to European culture.
- 7 Educating the students about a healthy and value oriented life, where virtues such as awareness of responsibility, civil courage, feelings of obligation, etc, as well as fairness and good sportsmanship, but also the abstinence from drug use, are all indispensable principles of the work of the Münchner Schulstiftung and their schools.
- 8 Through social projects and appropriate educational actions the social obligation of the student will be promoted as an active and conscious responsibility for other people in school, society and community. As a result of this the political involvement of the students will being stimulated and supported through information, building of contacts and personal contact to those in political positions.
